As we "enjoy" Spring Break this week, I think it’s the perfect time to reflect on our routines so far during quarantine. While there are many articles that have come out encouraging people to stick to their routines during this time, it is equally as important to make the most of the "extra" time you do have. Below are a few links to webinars and resources to explore when you’re taking breaks from your normal routines:

- "Adulting 101" -- Free online classes for 11th & 12th graders hosted by Michigan State University; class topics include: budgeting, cooking 101, and more! Sign up for the Budgeting course on April 9th here: https://msu.zoom.us/j/257448955

- Postsecondary Advising Webinars -- In partnership with Detroit Drives Degrees, the Detroit College Access Network (DCAN) will offer college-related webinars to assist students. Use the link provided to join the webinar on April 7th, "Road to Higher Education: College Prep Checklist" at 1:30pm -- https://zoom.us/j/357524231 or "Welcome to FAFSA 101" on April 9th at 1:30pm --

College Fun Fact:
- "University" is a shortening of the Latin phrase "universitas magistrorum et scholarium" or "a community of masters and scholars".
